Build New Job Skills!

Employers value the talents older workers bring to the workplace and are looking for people like you. If you're 55 or older with a low income, local organizations are ready to help you refresh your job skills and re-enter the workforce.

You'll be placed in a part-time community service training assignment to gain experience. You can serve your community — at libraries, hospitals, senior centers and other local organizations — while expanding your skills and earning an income.

Our local SCSEP staff will help you secure the training you need and will assist you in making the transition to a job that's right for you.
