

CONCLUSION

This booklet was designed to help you understand your rights and responsibilities as a parent. A child has a right to be taken care of by both parents. The child does not lose these rights when the parents are not married. Once paternity is established, both parents have both rights and responsibilities as described in this booklet.

For information about related topics, please refer to the following booklets published by the Minnesota Legal Services Coalition: Getting a Divorce, Child Support Basics and Orders for Protection and Harassment Restraining Orders.